

Indian Mediation Week, 2018

Justice, Liberty and Equity are few of the goals enshrined in the Constitution of India. Avowed with the same “AURO LEGAL AID AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT CELL” promotes legal aid, legal education and research. The cell is run by the Faculty Convener and the Students of Law School, who selflessly work as para-legal volunteers to provide free legal aid to the community.

Team Legal Aid and Community Development (LACD) of Auro University, is delighted to announce that LACD has registered itself for Indian Mediation Week, 2018. IMW is an event backed by the Ministry of Law and Justice, Government of India and Supreme Court Mediation and Conciliation Project Committee (MCPC).

Ms. Vishwa Mukhtyar (2nd year BBA, L.L.B), School of Law is nominated as a student ambassador for the Mediation Programme.

During this mediation drive the primary responsibility of the team will be to help and improve access to Justice in our society and promote the message of mediation to general public.
